

EDITORIAL

JSARA: The Journal of the Southeastern Association for Research in Astronomy was founded to provide a reliable, ADS-searchable outlet for the publication of the results of undergraduate astronomical research projects, specifically those resulting from the SARA REU Summer Intern Program, and research completed by SARA member university undergraduates. This issue contains the research manuscripts from the students and faculty participating in the Summer 2012 SARA REU Program as well as an additional manuscript submitted through a SARA member institution.

— Matt A. Wood